HAMPTON REPULSED WITH HEAVY LOSS.

[OFFICIAL.]

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, March 16—9:30 P. M.

To Maj.-Gen. John A. Dix, New-York:

The following dispatch has been received this evening at this department:

CITY POINT, March 16, 1865.

Hon. C. A. Dana, Assistant Secretary of War:

I am just in a receipt of a letter from Gen. SHERMAN, 12th, from Fayetteville. He describes his army as in fine health and spirits, having met with no serious opposition. HARDEE keeps in his front at a respectful distance. At Columbia he destroyed immense arsenals and railroad establishments, and forty-three cannon. At Cheraw he found much machinery and war material, including twenty-five cannon and thirty-six hundred barrels of gunpowder. In Fayetteville he found twenty pieces of artillery and much other material. He says nothing about KILPATRICK'S defeat by HAMPTON; but the officer who brought this letter says that, before daylight on the 10th, HAMPTON got two brigades in the rear of KILPATRICK'S headquarters, and surprised and captured all the staff but two officers. KILPATRICK escaped, formed his men, and drove the enemy with great loss, recapturing about all that he had lost. HAMPTON lost eighty-six left dead on the field.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT, Lieutenant-General.

Another telegram from Gen. GRANT'S headquarters reports that the Daily Dispatch is the only paper issued to-day in Richmond. It says:

The Dispatch is published this morning on half a sheet only, because of the fact that all the employés, printers, reporters and clerks, are members of military organizations, and were called out yesterday morning by the Governor to perform special service for a short time. But for the kindness of a few friends, who are exempt from service, and who volunteered their aid, the half loaf presented would of necessity have been withheld.

In a few days at farthest, our forces will return to their posts, when we hope to resume and continue uninterruptedly, our full-sized sheet."

There is no other news of moment from any quarter.

C. A. DANA, Assistant Secretary of War.

SHERMAN'S MOVEMENTS.

His Troops in Possession of Goldsboro—Rebels Report One Wing Moving on Raleigh—The Rebels Leave 700 Dead Before Kinston—Our Gunboats Gone up the Neuse River—Charge upon Our Works and Capture of a Rebel Regiment.

NEWBERN, N. C., Monday, March 13.

Officers just from the front state that an order was read to the troops Saturday evening last from Maj.-Gen. COX, commanding, stating that they would be joined by SHERMAN'S army in three days, which created the greatest enthusiasm.

A rebel surgeon came in this morning and took the oath of allegiance. He says that SHERMAN'S cavalry was in Troy, N. C., a few days since, and that one wing of his army was moving on Fayetteville, one on Goldsboro, and another on Raleigh.

Yesterday afternoon the Mayor of Kinston surrendered the city to our forces. The bridge being burnt, prevented our forces from crossing. Pontoons were sent up this morning for that purpose. The enemy retreated rapidly from Kinston to Goldsboro.

A report this morning states that SHERMAN is in possession of Goldsboro, and that the enemy are making back to Kinston to prevent our forces from crossing the Neuse River at that point. This is not official, however.

The enemy left 700 of their dead on the field before crossing the river, which we buried; also many wounded, which fell into our hands.

The gunboat Shamrock has gone up the Neuse to Kinston. The river is very high.

E. P. GARDNER, Government detective, has just arrived from the front, and states that he saw a bearer of dispatches from Gen. SHERMAN, who told him that Gen. SHERMAN was at Goldsboro.

At 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon, the enemy made a charge on our works, which was repulsed, and we captured the Forty-sixth North Carolina rebel Regiment.

No fighting of any account occurred yesterday or to-day.

There has been no rain since Thursday last. The weather is warm and pleasant, and the roads good.

Gen. SCHOFIELD left for the front this morning. He received a communication yesterday from Gen. SHERMAN, via Wilmington. SHERMAN says "he is all right."

The negroes are being pressed in to work on the railroad.

Brig.-Gen. EWING, a brother-in-law of Gen. SHERMAN, has just arrived here, with his Staff, for the purpose of joining Gen. SHERMAN. A member of his Staff says there is no doubt but what they will join SHERMAN in a few days.

OUR ALBANY CORRESPONDENCE.

The Question of Removing the State Capital—Report on the New-York Health Bill—Grinding Committees at Work.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

ALBANY, Monday, March 13, 1865.

A majority of both branches of the Legislature is unquestionably in favor of removing the capital, but the discussion already had in the House has demonstrated clearly enough that no removal will take place. There is a general distrust of everybody on this question, and it is simply impossible to harmonize the views of various localities. No commission could be named that the House would trust with the power of locating the new capital. The bill reported from the Committee of Ways and Means makes the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, and Secretary of State a commission to locate and erect the new capitol building, which, in the language of the bill, "shall be located outside of the City and County of Albany." Two or three times the House has refused by an overwhelming vote to strike out the words above quoted, thus showing clearly enough that it is opposed to Albany. The bill had some chance of success until Mr. VAN BUREN, of New-York, took the floor against it. He insisted that there was a very large African in the palings—that the bill was nothing less than a scheme to locate the capital at the Salt Springs, where the Lieutenant-Governor resides, arguing that two of the commissioners named were Western men, subject to like influences as members on that floor. This, of course, alarmed a good many Eastern members, and hence diminished the chances of the bill.

Mr. VAN BUREN solemnly protested against any such infliction upon New-York as the location of the capital in that city; there was crime and criminals enough there already. He believed the citizens of New-York would vote against it by a large majority, and he denied that any authorized offer had come from that city.

Mr. CRAMER contended that the gentleman (Mr. VAN BUREN) did not represent the views of the people of New-York, who were in favor of locating the capital in the chief city of the nation, and who would cheerfully pay any price that might be needful to secure its location there. He undertook to say that the people of New-York, if the question were put to vote, would nine-tenths of them go for the capital, cost what it may.

It thus appears that an issue is joined between New-York members on the Capitol question. The bill is likely to prove a capital joke, and very little else, for the bill was yesterday laid on the table, where it is likely to remain.

The report on the New-York Health Bill, when made by Dr. CRANDALL, of Allegany, in the Assembly, excited considerable surprise. It simply brings the matter up "for the consideration of the House." The committee is mainly composed of M. D.'s, and inasmuch as they heard elaborate and exhaustive arguments on the subject, it was supposed that the committee, instead of shirking responsibility, would assume some definite position. The report made by Senator ANDREWS in the upper House is of a different character. The Senatorial committee go for a bill which requires the Governor to appoint a Board of Health Commissioners, who are not to exercise police powers, but who may, as occasion requires, act in concert with the Police Commissioners in enforcing the needful rules and regulations essential to the health of the city. It is to be hoped that the Legislature will pass this wise and salutary act before its final adjournment, and, from present indications, I am inclined to the belief that it will do so.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly have reported the annual Charity Appropriation Bill, cutting down the special donations, so as to bring the whole amount down to $165,500, for all the charitable institutions of the State. This amount will be increased, probably $15,000, by the action of the two Houses in inserting appropriations to sundry institutions not included in the report of the committee. The committee is now hard at work upon the Supply Bill, which will be reported in a day or two. The applicants for places in this bill are quite as numerous as usual, and their demands are no less excessive. Multitudes will, however, be disappointed, as the committee is determined to practice economy, and to make no appropriation that is not demanded by justice and equity.

A ship canal scheme, which rivals in importance that projected around the falls of Ningara, has, for some weeks, engaged the attention of the Canal Committee of the Assembly. The project is not a new one, but if it is ever carried out, it will, in one way or another, materially affect the channels of trade. It is proposed to construct a ship canal from Big Sodus Bay on Lake Ontario, to connect directly with the Erie Canal at a point near the Cayuga marshes, the object being to bring lake vessels to this point so that they may discharge their cargoes into canal-boats for transportation eastward. In 1836 the Legislature passed an act giving the Sodus Canal Company—a private corporation—the right to construct this canal in ten years. Various circumstances prevented the company from undertaking the work, and the charter expired by limitation. The act was again renewed for ten years in 1851, and the company, as is alleged, expended some $150,000 on the work, but was not able to do more at that time. They now ask that the several acts relating to the subject be revived, that they be allowed ten years more to operate in, promising to accomplish the work within that period.

The party chiefly interested in the Sodus Canal Company, Gen W. H. ADAMS, has lobbied the bill with great pertinacity, and has occupied several sittings of the Canal Committee in argument on the subject. He contends that the acts of the State in changing the level of the Erie Canal prevented his company from making the connection with that work, and that he, therefore has a just right to demand a renewal of the charter.

The scheme is vigorously opposed by the people on the line of the Seneca and Oswego rivers, who contend with great earnestness that the proposed canal must necessarily take a very considerable quantity of the water which now flows in those rivers; that many millions of dollars are invested in mills and machinery dependent upon this hydraulic power—investments made in the faith that the State would do no act to lessen the flow of water in those natural channels. The opponents of the bill further contend that to allow any corporation, foreign to the interests of the State, to connect a channel of water communication directly with the Erie Canal, would result disastrously to navigation, and, however the grant may be guarded, cannot fail to deprive the public works of the State of the supply of water requisite for their operation.

The bill has already passed the Senate, as it did last year, but judging of the opposition it encounters in the House, and estimating the ability of the Canal Committee, whose Chairman, is, perhaps, as thoroughly posted in canal policy as any man in the State, I assume that this project will share the fate of the Niagara ship canal.

Grinding Committees have been instituted in both houses, and legislation goes on at railroad speed. The Senate is accomplishing a good deal of work, but the House is slightly demoralized by the constant effort to move bills forward, which has operated injuriously. General orders have been broken up, and the consequence is that the legislative machine runs awkwardly. The non-talking members, who complain that oratorical flatulence exhibited on the floor has put their measures behind, made an effort on Saturday to adopt the ten minute rule for speeches, resulted in more than an hour of talk and the defeat of the project. Gab, therefore, continues an enemy to legislation, and cannot be put down.

Lieut.-Gov. ALVORD has just returned from Washington, where he had several interviews with the President, Secretary of War and Provost-Marshal-General FRY, on the subject of the draft in this State. The mission was undertaken by and with the advice and counsel of Gov. FENTON, and the result is, as I learn, "by authority," that the draft is virtually suspended for the present at least. The Lieutenant-Governor obtained a positive assurance that the draft would not be ordered in any locality where recruiting is going forward with any indication of an intention to fill the quota, nor would any drafted man whose name has already been drawn from the wheel of of fortune be ordered to report in a locality where recruiting is still being pushed forward. Volunteers will be received to the last moment, and to that extent drafted men will be released. Men are wanted, but volunteers are deemed better than conscripts, and every facility possible will be extended by the Government to aid in obtaining the former.

HALIFAX, Thursday, March 16.

The steamship Africa, which left Liverpool on the 4th inst. and Queenstown on the 5th, arrived at Halifax at 7 this morning. She has 39 passengers for Halifax and 25 for Boston.

The steamship City of Cork left Liverpool simultaneously with the Africa, for New-York.

The steamship St. David arrived at Londonderry at 9:30 on the evening of the 2d, and Liverpool at 6:30 P. M., on the 3d.

The steamship Australasian arrived at Queenstown on the afternoon of the 3d, and at Liverpool at noon on the 4th.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The news per Australasian of the fall of Charleston caused much sensation. Its immediate effect was the advance of two per cent. in United States bonds, and a decline of four per cent. in the Confederate loan.

The London Times says the influence of the success at Charleston can hardly be exaggerated. The moral effects cannot but be most powerful on the conduct of the war. It is seen that the population of the Southeastern States is not able to oppose the march of the Federal armies. The advance from Savannah to Charleston seems to have been as easy as the march from Atlanta to Savannah.

The Star regards the fall of Charleston as premonitory of the utter overthrow of the rebellion.

The Army & Navy Gazette says the evacuation of Charleston and Columbia, and the concentration of garrisons, will strengthen the hands of BEAUREGARD, HARDEE and HILL. But the Confederates are placed in a position of exceeding danger, from which it will require greater genius than ever LEE and DAVIS have as yet exhibited to extricate them. The purpose of GRANT becomes more obvious as the campaign proceeds. He holds LEE fast, and thus paralyzes the strongest arm and neutralizes the greatest force of the Confederacy.

The Liverpool Post, in an editorial contending against a probable war between England and America says: "In a note from a member of the Government received in Liverpool on the 2d, occurs the following passage: 'I hear the city is uneasy about America. We have however more pacific and satisfactory declarations from the United States Government than for a long time past has been the case.'"

The Post thinks the new Minister goes out to reciprocate the words of amity recently transmitted across the Atlantic.

Sir F. BRUCE is officially gazetted as Minister to Washington.

The news was published too late on the 3d for the Liverpool and Manchester markets; but the first effect was one of depression, and cotton declined.

The Daily News' city article says there is some prospect of gold shipments being made to New-York, owing to the flatness of exchange. Were these to commence, they would probably make the turning point in the English money market.

The rebel ram Stonewall continues at Ferrol, watched by Federal vessels. The truth of the report that she was leaking is not confirmed, as she continues to take on board large quantities of coal.

In the House of Commons on the 3d, Mr. SHAW LEFEVRE asked whether the attention of the Government had been directed to a certain minute of instructions alleged to have been issued by the Confederate Government, with reference to the seizure and disposal by Confederate cruisers of neutral vessels without adjudication by a prize-court; whether such instructions met the approbation of the Government; if not, what measures would be taken to prevent their being carried out?

Mr. LAYARD replied that the attention of the Government had been given to the instructions in question, and they were entirely disapproved. It would not, however, be consistent with the interests of the public service to state what steps had been taken regarding them.

Senator FOOTE had issued an address dated London, Feb. 24, to the sovereign people of the State of Tennessee, in which he explains the reasons which led him to disconnect himself from the Confederate Legislature and seek refuge in England. He reiterates his denunciations against the rebel Government.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday Evening, March 4.

The London Times says the fall of Charleston is a victory which will recompense the Federals for many labors, and encourage them to pursue, with renewed vigor, the conquest of the South. It believes that although the South is now virtually shut out from the world, it will continue to show unabated obstinacy in defence.

The Daily News contents itself by editorially detailing the operations of Gen. SHERMAN in a strain of eulogy.

The Morning Post argues that Charleston was evacuated as a strategic necessity, and says Gen. SHERMAN'S movements have been characterized by foresight and accurate calculations, which have obtained results which place him in the foremost rank of the Generals of the present day.

TRADE IN REBEL STATES.

An Important Order by Gen. Grant Concerning Trade in Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia—Treasury Permits for those States Suspended.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, March 16.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Bulletin, says:

Gen. GRANT has just issued a highly important order relative to trade in the rebel States, with a view to put an end to the illegal traffic lately attempted. He says that all operations on treasury trade permits, by whomsoever granted, within the State of Virginia, (except portions known as the eastern shore,) and within the States of North Carolina and South Carolina, and that portion of the State of Georgia immediately bordering on the Atlantic, including the City of Savannah, are suspended until further orders. The delivery of all goods contracted for and not delivered before the production of this order is prohibited.

The military are instructed to seize all goods obtained by any such trade permit, license or agreement. In conclusion, the order says:

"Supplies of all kinds are prohibited from passing into any of said States, except such as are absolutely necessary for the wants of those living within the lines of actual military occupation, and under no circumstances will military commanders allow them to pass beyond the lines they actually hold."

Arrangements Made for the Issue of the Six Hundred Million Loan.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, March 16.

The Secretary of the Treasury arranged, yesterday, in Washington, with JAY COOKE & Co., the most important financial measure, of the issue of the $600,000,000 loan. The first issue will be of $300,000,000, on the 15th day of June next. The notes, in form, denomination and interest, will be, in all respects, like the present issue of seven-thirties. They will be unlike them only in the period of time fixed for their convertibility. They will have ten months longer to run than the seven-thirties before they can be changed into gold-bearing five-twenties. By a very large class of investors this difference will be considered to impart greater value to the new issue. The balance of the $600,000,000 will probably be a year longer in maturing than the June issue. This time will be definitely fixed as the sales of the June issue approach the end. It may be that that balance will not be required at all; that the first $300,000,000 will meet the necessities of the Government. It is expected that this first issue will be disposed of in about three months. The agency of the present seven-thirties, with all its machinery, will be employed for the whole of the new loan.

From the Southwest.

BATON ROUGE, Thursday, March 9.

The cavalry expedition sent from here by Maj.-Gen. HERRON, has been heard from. They have had some heavy skirmishing, in which we lost ten or fifteen killed and wounded, and inflicting a loss on the rebels of thirty or forty, and some prisoners, including two officers. The roads over which our forces passed were horrible.

A force is concentrating at Liberty under Gen. HODGE and SCOTT.

Our cavalry was under the immediate command of Gens. BAILEY and DAVIS.

Information received from Meridian state that the rebel Gen. FORREST was at Macon, Ga., last month, in command of 15,000 men. Great activity prevails in that department, and FORREST was rapidly adding to and organizing his force.

Cotton speculators are holding off for the public sale to be made by order of the United States.

There have been no transactions in sugar or molasses.

The rebel Gen. BROCKENBAR was recently taken prisoner at Rodney, Miss., by a Lieutenant of the Federal navy, and sent to this city to report to Gen. CANBY. He was en route from RICHMOND to report to KIRBY SMITH at the time of his capture.

From Matamoras.

By the arrival at this port yesterday morning of the bark Daniel, Capt. SPEARMAKER, from Matamoras, we have dates to the 23d ult.

She brings no news of importance. Freights were low and business very dull. The markets are completely glutted with all kinds of produce. A great many vessels were leaving in ballast. There was a fleet of 120 sail of different sized merchant vessels lying off the Rio Grande. Also two American, one French and one English man-of-war.

SKIRMISHING ON THE PICKET LINES.

From Our Special Correspondent.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY POTOMAC, Wednesday, March 15—8 A. M.

During the greater part of yesterday active operations on a most extensive scale could be discovered within the limits of the rebel army.

Camps were struck, and large and heavy masses of troops were seen in line of battle. Besides three columns of men were moving to and fro within their interior lines.

Nothing definite was or could be ascertained regarding the ultimate destination or meaning of these columns; but, as a matter of course, orders were at once issued for the different corps and other commands to be in instant readiness to move.

The movements of the enemy will govern our own, until something definite is learned regarding Gen. LEE'S intentions.

In the centre of our line, near the Appomattox River, it is generally believed that the enemy has succeeded in mining our works, especially Fort Hell and Fort Morton, and all last night our engineers were in busy search for any indication of the fact.

Nothing could be learned, at a late hour last night, as regarded the result of their search, as an unusual reticence was observable among the engineer officers.

During the best portion of last night, trains and other wagons were in active motion. The sutlers were also all ordered to the rear.

All along our front line of breastworks, the troops have been lying in position awaiting an attack, had any been made.

Suitable dispositions were likwise made along our flank. The army has been for the past eighteen hours in constant redness, and kept well in hand for any hostile demonstration of the enemy.

As it stands at present, there is every indication of a speedy move, and appearances look very like a fight.

It is to be hoped that Gen. LEE will be induced, or compelled, to attack the Army of the Potomac in their intrenched positions, in which case, the rebels will be met with firmness and decision.

The Army of the Potomac are now stripping for the fight, and this gallant command were never in better trim or more courageous spirits for any approaching movements.

Officers and men share alike in the feeling that the ensuing campaign, now about opening, will prove the last, provided they do the duty. This they are prepared to do.

A slight picket fire was kept up in front of Petersburgh during last night.

An informal review of the entire Fifth Corps took place yesterday before Gen. WARREN.

Although not intended as a parade of strict ceremony the command appeared to great advantage.

Reviews—No Peace Commissioners—Exchange of Papers.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, March 16.

Information from the Army of the Potomac says the Fifth Corps was reviewed on Tuesday by Gen. WARREN. This corps is one of the largest in the army, and in regard to discipline, stands second to none.

The utmost diligence is exercised by commanding officers in preparing for the spring campaign.

Thirty-four deserters came into our lines on Tuesday, all bringing their guns, and some their horses.

Passengers direct from City Point say there was not even a rumor at that place of Peace Commissioners from Richmond, as was so industriously circulated elsewhere yesterday. The VANCE who arrived there was Brig.-Gen. VANCE, a brother of Gov. VANCE, of North Carolina, to be exchanged, and not Gov. VANCE himself as Peace Commissioner, with two imaginary colleagues.

Gen. LONGSTREET has placed restriction on the exchange of newspapers, permitting only date for date, but some of the rebel editors say they will endeavor to have the order modified.

Many of the sick of our army have been removed to City Point.

DEPARTMENT OF THE EAST.

Fort Lafayette—How it Looks and What it Contains.

Col. Burke, Capt. Kennedy and the Bounty-Jumpers,

Interesting Particulars Concerning Kennedy—His Views on Matters in General and His Approaching Death,

The occurrences of the past four years have made Fort Lafayette and its commandant, Col. MARTIN BURKE, historic and memorable. For obvious reasons it has not been deemed desirable hitherto that newspaper historians should have the run of the Fort, as their zeal might now and then get the better of a discretion which would suggest reticence rather than publicity. Within the past week, however, a vast change has taken place. Gen. DIX, the commander of the Department of the East, has removed from the dreaded Lafayette all the prisoners of war, all the prisoners of State, and all the noted men whose names figure on its roll, and their places are now filled by men whose trade for months has been the swindling of the people out of moneys untold, and the country out of soldiers and fighting material. The facts are well known, and there can, therefore, no longer be any necessity for the exclusion of visitors, professional or lay, to the most famous "House of Detention," thus far produced by the exigencies of the war.

We yesterday took a trip to Fort Lafayette, and feel at liberty to make the following statement. Taking a Fort Hamilton car at Fulton Ferry, we proceeded in cheerful companionship with two half-drunken soldiers, several market women and a lame pedd'er, on our island ride. The country through which the route is taken presents but few salient features, of which the more prominent are human. On arrival at Hamilton the fort appeared before us—a low, diamond-shaped structure, sitting squat upon a little pile of rocks, a few hundred feet from the shore, unattractive, dismal and gloomy with no redemptive sign, save the beautiful flag which floats over, from sunrise to sunset. Strength, it apparently has none; it would seem to require but a very few vigorous blows from its sister forts to demolish it, while its force would soon be expended, and yet such is the power of its name and the prestige of its fame, that Southern prisoners and Northern delinquents shudder at the very suggestion of a week's enjoyment of its hospitality. The universal testimony of those who have been there is that for comfort, cleanliness, and systematic regularity, it is unsurpassed, while as for commanders, they would a thousand times prefer old MARTIN BURKE, with all his eccentricities, querilities, and sternness of discipline, to any holiday Gigadier-Brindle who would pay less attention to the solid comforts and more to the dress parades of his command. Access to the portal of the fort is not easy. In the first place, the water is cold, the passage is broad, the current through the "cut" is rapid, and no swimmer would care to brave it. Small boats are not permitted within a hundred yards, and woe to the luckless helmsman who glides within range of the Colonel's muskets. Armed with a pass from Gen. DIX, however, one can cross in the regular barge, which lands you at the foot of a stairway, where a sentry challenges and the Sergeant of the guard examines you. If you desire to see the Colonel, your card and pass are taken up, while you cool your heels in the salle-port or examine the walls of the fort.

Permission being granted, the Officer of the Day satisfied that your errand is a proper one, the Colonel convinced that you do not come to serve a writ of habeas corpus, and everything else being as it should, you are led by an armed sentry up a spiral stairway, white as marble, fresh as new paint, and nearly as long as the moral law. At the head of the stone steps two lines of porch divide—one, to the right, leading to the rooms of the Post Adjutant, the officers on duty, and to the far off apartment of the Commandant, while the other leads to the quarters of the soldiers. From these porches, looking down upon a hollow square, are seen shot furnaces, magazines, piles of cannon-ball, and three casemate rears, whose entrances are closed by broad wooden doors, padlocked and chained, a guard-house, and the solitary sentry, who paces his post with monotonous regularity. Beneath the officers' porch are other casements, occupied by Sergt. GRAVES, who, with his comely wife, has lived there this twenty years, a store-room, and the quarters of one of the sergeants on duty.

Everything is as clean and bright as whitewash and black paint can make it. The walls glisten in the sun, the cannon-balls, black as Erebus, shine like the contraband heel, and the level parade-ground is divested of all irregularities, robbed of every pebble, swept of every surplus particle of dust.

At the call of the sentry we passed along the first named porch, and were ushered into the presence of

COL. MARTIN BURKE.

The name of this gallant veteran is a household word in the homes of our people, North and South. In earlier days, with WINFIELD SCOTT, he earned his rank and fame, while later he has been no less useful in guarding the entrance to the American Bastile, watching over the safety of Uncle Sam's naughty boys, and obeying to the very letter the orders of his superiors. During four years the Colonel has not visited the city, and for over two years he has not placed his foot on land this side of his sea-girt rock. Faithful and earnest, he guards his post, and not until the trump of the archangel or an order from the Secretary of War summons him thence, will he desert it. The Colonel is a character—tall, lean, keen-eyed, shrewd and "knowledgeable," he sees and hears, and knows everything connected with his command. An order to him is a sacred thing, and its execution a solemn duty. After a brief interchange of views and sentiments on sundry matters, he desired a very courteous young officer, Lieut. ROBERT P. WILSON, of the Seventeenth Infantry, to conduct us about the post. We first went to room No. 2, in which

who was recently convicted before a court-martial in this city as a spy and an incendiary is confined. The room in which KENNEDY sleeps and lives is an ordinary casemate, some twenty by twelve feet in size, with two iron-barred loop-holes facing the Narrows, and a third looking into the court-yard. The furniture consists of an iron bedstead, (one of the several sent to the members of the Maryland Legislature by the ladies of Baltimore,) two camp chairs and small pine table. A roaring anthracite fire blazed at the far end of the room, by which Capt. KENNEDY was standing as we entered. Courteously acknowledging our salutation, he shook hands with Lieut. WILSON and us and desired us to be seated. Of all the contemptible actions a man can be guilty of, we deem the impertinent gazing, the unfeeling staring at men in trouble, in which too many good people indulge, to be the meanest. It was perhaps unnecessary for us to assure KENNEDY that we had other motives than mere idle curiosity in visiting him, but that being the fact we made it known. He has grown thin and old and nervous since his removal to the fort. When first taken there his fate was undecided and he seemed cheerful, gay and hopeful, but he then had the companionship of kindred souls of Confederate friends, and beyond all, a singular hope, and perhaps belief, that his case was to be regarded favorably by the commission. Last week it was announced to him, however, by a member of Gen. DIX'S Staff, that he had been found guilty and sentenced to die upon the gal-

NEW-YORK, Thursday, March 16—P. M.

There is a further decline of 3@5 ₱ cent. in the Gold Room to-day, occurring, mainly, after regular 'Change hours. The market through the forenoon had some appearance of steadiness, in the neighborhood of 175½ ₱ cent., the sales ranging, at one time, np to 176¼@¼ ₱ cent. But after 2 o'clock, the sales indicated a weaker feeling, and ran down to 172¼@172 ₱ cent. The later English news by the Africa, reporting the better English news by the Africa, reporting the probability of early Gold shipments to this side, owing to the flatness of Exchange in New-York, was not without its effect on a sensitive and declining market. There was also some suspicions around the Room of later military news in private hands, and perhaps of future difficulties in the settlement of maturing contracts between the speculators, as on yesterday.

At the Stock Exchange this morning there was some weakness in the Government Gold bearing Stocks, on the Peruvian's quotation for 5.20s, but after the later dispatches by the Africa, the old 5.20s were in request, and other descriptions steady.

On the Railway list the fluctuations in Erie were quite marked, from 65 at the early Board to 69 on the Street later in the day, and back to 66½ on the breaking up of the Second Board. The other New-York and Western Roads improved with the rise on Erie, but relapsed at the close of the Second Board. There was a breakdown of 5@8 ₱ cent. on Cumberland Coal, and a weak demand for the other Miscellaneous Shares.

At 4 o'clock the following quotations were made as compared with the same hour yesterday. There was not much spirit at the Open Board and the general market was dull on the street. Gold down to 171¾ ₱ cent., the lowest point since last Spring.

The subscriptions to the Popular 7.30 Loan at the First National Bank were $500,000.

There was some activity in Money among the Brokers at 7 ₱ cent.

The following is the business of the First National Bank of Philadelphia, on a capital of one million of dollars, March 13:

Loans	$6,131,000	Deposits	$6,406,000
From Banks	1,345,000	To Banks	3,353,000
Legal Tender	3,165,000	Circulation	674,000

The Secretary of the Treasury notifies Custom-house Collectors that the ninth section of the amendment to the Tariff Law enacts:

"That this act shall take effect on and after the 1st day of April, 1865; consequently, in the absence of any provision of law to the contrary, you will cause the rates of duty imposed by this act to be assessed only on such goods, wares and merchandise as may be imported on or after the 1st proximo. Goods imported prior to the 1st proximo, whether under bond or otherwise, are not liable to the increased rates imposed by this act."

The subscriptions at the Ninth National Bank for 7-30s, this day, amounted to $350,000.

The day's business at the Office of the Assistant Treasurer was as follows: Total receipts, $2,341,582 43; total payments, $2,415,928 02, including for Customs, $216,000; on account of Loan, $127,000; balance, $27,391,453 41.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Washington was a little exercised yesterday by rumors that LEE was getting out of Richmond. The report seems, however, to have been rather the foreshadowing of a probability than the record of a fact. There are signs of commotion in the rebel army, and correspondents judge that they are about making a demonstration upon GRANT'S lines. But everything is vague, most of it guesswork.

Our correspondents at the front say that all day on Tuesday there was evidence of some extensive movement by Gen. LEE. His camps were struck, masses of troops were seen in line of battle, columns were moving to and fro, and everything betokened some important venture. Of course our own men were held in readiness, and every preparation made to meet whatever emergency might arise. The dire necessities of the rebel leaders are well known, and the possibility of their making a sudden and desperate onset upon some unguarded portion of our lines is well understood, and no doubt amply guarded against. These facts give color to the rumors said to have been current yesterday at the capital, to which we have above alluded.

An official dispatch from SHERMAN tells us that he has destroyed or captured, at Columbia, Cheraw and Fayetteville, 45 pieces of artillery and a vast amount of other rebel property. KILPATRICK, it appears, had a narrow escape. Two brigades of rebel cavalry got in his rear, and came near capturing him. He escaped, however, and gave HAMPTON a decided thrashing.

From Newbern, we have rumors that our forces are in the occupancy of Goldsboro'. A rebel surgeon reports that our cavalry was at Troy, N. C., a few days ago, and that one wing of SHERMAN'S army was moving on Raleigh.

CLARENCE J. PRENTICE, son of the editor of the Louisville Journal, and especially virulent rebel, recently undertook to capture Tazewell, Tenn. He had 150 men; the place was held by 50 men under Lieut. JENNINGS. PRENTICE demanded surrender; JENNINGS declined; a fight ensued, and PRENTICE was whipped most decidedly. Instead of taking the place, the rebel leader was compelled to send a flag of truce for permission to bury his dead.

A dispatch to the Richmond papers of March 13, dated Macon, Ga., March 7, just six days old, says: Gen. HOWELL COBB addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting here last night. Hon. B. H. HILL speaks to-night. There is a great revolution in public feeling, and a general disposition to apply all the resources of the country to resume the prosecution of the war with vigor. It is believed that the Legislature will refuse to call a State Convention.

The Chattanooga Gazette of the 10th says a force of rebels, said to number about one hundred, were reported in the vicinity of Cleveland on the 9th. Eight or ten of their party were captured during the day by some of our forces. Another large party crossed the line of the Chattanooga and Knoxville railroad, between Cleveland and McDonald's Station, the same day about daylight.

Passengers direct from City Point say there was not even a rumor at that place of Peace Commissioners from Richmond, as was so industriously circulated elsewhere. The VANCE who arrived there was Brig.-Gen. VANCE, a brother of Gov. VANCE, of North Carolina, to be exchanged, and not Gov. VANCE himself as Peace Commissioner, with two imaginary colleagues.

Gen. GRANT has issued an order intended to put a stop to the illegal trade now going on in the rebel States of Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia. He suspends operations under Treasury trade permits, except within certain specified districts, and the military are directed to seize all goods which may be sent forward in contravention of these directions.

Gen. HERRON'S cavalry expedition from Baton Rouge, La., has been doing satisfactorily. They have had some heavy skirmishing, losing ten or fifteen killed and wounded, inflicting a loss on the rebels of thirty or forty and some prisoners, including two officers.

Information as received from Meridian, states that the rebel Gen. FORREST was at Macon, Ga., last month, in command of 15,000 men. Great activity prevails in that department, and FORREST was rapidly adding to and organizing his force.

FROM EUROPE.

The Africa brings dates from Queenstown to the 5th inst. The news of the fall of Charleston sent Confederate stocks down and United States stocks up—the former four, the latter two per cent. The English press generally look upon the position in this country as indicative of the early collapse of the Confederacy. The rebel pirate Stonewall was still at Ferrol, closely watched by Union cruisers. The seizure and disposal of neutral vessels by Confederate cruisers, without the formalities of a prize court hearing, has attracted the attention of Parliament. Mr. LAYARD replied that proper steps had been taken to prevent injustice. The Peruvian treaty of peace was officially laid before the Spanish Cortes a few days ago. The peace news from America created a decided panic in the cotton market in India. At Calcutta the change was greatly in favor of the buyer.

The mails by the Peruvian, via Portland, reached this city yesterday morning. They cover dates to March 3, but do not contain anything of special interest.

GENERAL NEWS.

W. A. BURLEIGH, Indian Agent for the Yancton and Sioux of Dakota, and delegate elect from that Territory, will soon return to his home, having succeeded in securing an appropriation of $10,000 to indemnify white citizens for outrages inflicted on their persons and depredations on their property, and also an appropriation of $20,000 for negotiating a treaty of peace with the hostile Sioux of the Upper Missouri. He has made an elaborate report to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs connected with his agency, from which it appears that the late military expeditions have been failures, and that most shameful wrongs have been committed by the friendly Indians in that part of the country. He says that peace may be secured with the hostile Indians at a comparatively small expenditure of money, and the settlement of the territory will be thus promoted.

A paragraph that a flood at Eastport has destroyed one or two million dollars' worth of commissary stores, is contradicted in a dispatch received by Quartermaster-Gen. MEIGS, yesterday, from Nashville, saying that the loss at Eastport is trifling, with the exception of the submerging of fifty or sixty thousand bushels of grain, most of which will be saved in a damaged state, and when sold will realize a part of its cost. There has been much damage to railroads in the Department of Cumberland—the bridges being, many of them, trestle bridges, built after the defeat and expulsion of the rebel army; but the roads will all be open again by the end of March. The troops have not suffered from the temporary interruption of communication.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, having been informed by the Assessor of the Fifteenth District of New-York that express companies have discontinued the use of stamps, under directions of the Home Office, and asking what course shall be taken in the matter, replies that by the provisions of the act of March 3, 1865, express companies are not required to stamp receipts on and after April next; but there is nothing in the act releasing them from the necessity of stamping such receipts before that time. You will, therefore, report each and every case of violation of the law by express companies, in failing to stamp receipts, to the Collector for prosecution, on the fact coming to your knowledge.

We have received Jamaica papers to March 4, but they contain no important news. The Barbados papers announce the arrival, at Bridgetown, of the French Admiral from Martinique, on a visit to Admiral HOPE, who was momentarily expected. From all quarters of the island (of Barbados,) says the Globe, we hear of no other but favorable accounts. In some of the high lands in St. John's, the planters are wishing for a few more showers; but the reaping has commenced in earnest there, and throughout the island the manufacture of sugar will soon be general. The crop, it is anticipated by some, will reach 50,000 hogsheads.

President LINCOLN has unconditionally pardoned Mr. MOSES WISENFELD, of the late firm of WISENFELD & Co., of Baltimore, who was convicted of illicit traffic with the rebels. It will be recollected that he was tried at Washington by court-martial and convicted on the testimony of a detective, and was sentenced to the Albany penitentiary during the war.

The Platteville (Wisconsin) Witness notes the return home of a Miss GEORGIANA PETERMAN, who has been for two years a drummer in the Seventh Wisconsin Regiment. She lives in Ellenboro, is about twenty years old, wears soldier clothes and is quiet and reserved.

A new fraud has been discovered; several railroad ticket agents in Washington have been arrested on charge of passing upon the Government bogus certificates for transportation. About $30,000 is supposed to be the amount of the swindle.

The Naval Academy will not be removed from Newport to Annapolis without the action of the next Congress, the appropriation for that purpose having failed by the loss of the Civil Appropriation Bill, owing to WINTER DAVIS' amendment on another subject.

Major-Gen. MCDOWELL does not look with favor upon the Gwinn colonization scheme, and has made very stringent regulations about passports for adventurers from California in that direction.

JOHN DONNELLY, the murderer of JOHN EISLEY, at New-Haven, has been bound over for trial at the May term of the Superior Court, and BERNARD FITZGERALD has been bound over as accessory.

SHARP'S rifle-works, at Hartford, employ 500 workmen, and the machinery is kept running night and day. Twenty-five hundred rifles and carbines are manufactured every month for the Government.

The ice above and in fromt of Albany moved down this morning a mile or two, and then blocked up, which caused the water to rise so rapidly that the docks and piers are now submerged to the depth of several feet.

The Travelers' Insurance Company of Hartford (for insurance against accident on railroads, boats, &c.,) has commenced the publication of a monthly paper, called the Traveler's Record.

The slave-pens in Louisville, Ky., like those of Baltimore, Washington and New-Orleans, have been broken up. On the 4th Gen. PALMER ordered the release of all the slaves confined in Louisville.

JOHN D. FOX, father of the spirit-rapping Fox girls, lately died in Wayne County, New-York, aged 76. Mr. FOX was never carried away by spiritualism. He lived and died a devout Methodist.

By the arrival at this port of the bark Daniel, Capt. SPEARMATER, from Matamoras, we have dates to the 23d ult. She brings no news of importance.

JOHN THOMPSON, Esq., late Sheriff of Philadelphia, died in that city on Saturday morning. Mr. THOMPSON was a native of Philadelphia, and a printer by profession.

The New-Jersey Senate yesterday, by a partisan vote, rejected the Constitutional Amendment. Nobody will be disappointed.

HENRY A. WISE is a candidate for the rebel Congress—that is, if there shall be another rebel Congress.

The Machias (Me.) Union says hay is so scarce in that section, that only an early favorable Spring can save stock from starvation.

Substitutes in Washington are worth $1,000 each, and are scarce at that.

More than five millions of 7-30s were sold yesterday.

LOCAL NEWS.

Produce and merchandise opened yesterday with rather more animation and firmness, but closed quite heavily, with a strong downward tendency, in response to the fluctuations in Gold. The freight market was quite dull. The heavy fall in Gold to 170¼@170⅜, late in the afternoon, did not occur sufficiently early in the day to influence the course of trade.

There was a further fall in Gold yesterday of 5 ℔ cent., or to 171⅛ ℔ cent. The railways improved 1@2 ℔ cent., and Erie 4 ℔ cent., but relapsed after the breaking up of the Second Board in the afternoon. Government Stocks closed steady. Money somewhat active among the Brokers.

Cotton has declined in this market about 25 ℔ cent., (or from 84c.@85c. to 63c.@65c. for Middling grades, ℔ lb.,) since the 1st of the current month of March. Cotton goods have also declined, but not at all proportionately with the raw material.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, the calendar was called through but no cases were ready for trial owing to the absence of witnesses or counsel. The court adjourned until Monday next, to-day being St. Patrick's Day and Saturday not a court day.

The Board of Aldermen met yesterday, and adopted the tax levy for the ensuing year. The total amount required to be levied is $8,001,724 22.

The Board of Councilmen met yesterday, but transacted no business of importance.

OUR OCCUPATION OF KINSTON.—Our forces have several times occupied Kinston, and it was once before the scene of an engagement as obstinate as that of last week. FOSTER carried the city, two years and three months ago, taking twelve cannon and over five hundred prisoners after a sharp battle. Another successful engagement at Whitehall enabled him to press on to Goldsboro. This city, perhaps, might have fallen then under a resolute attack. But his only purpose was to coöperate with BURNSIDE'S assault on Fredericksburgh, by cutting railroad communication with Wilmington and Charleston. This his cavalry accomplished at Everettsville and Mount Olive. The present success of SCHOFIELD shows that what has been done once can be done again.

Our Railroad Policy.

We have received a great many communications concerning the bills pending in Albany on the subject of railroad fares, as well as on that of railroad accidents and railroad management in general. Most of them utter the resentments of the writers rather than the convictions of their judgment, and would, if published, contribute very little to the general stock of information upon the subject.

One thing is perfectly clear: our railroads are very imperfectly constructed and very badly managed. The loss of life upon them is tenfold greater than it should be; they are not half as safe, as healthy or as comfortable as the public convenience demands; and they are rapidly wearing out and becoming more and more unsafe every day. The public mind has been appalled by the number of accidents which have occurred upon the roads in every section of the country during the last few months, and from every quarter comes up a loud and imperious cry for protection to the lives and limbs of the traveling community. The demand is perfectly just and must be heeded. Our railroad system must be reformed. It must be improved in every department. More money must be put every year into the roads themselves. Their road-beds must be made more solid, their rails must be kept new and sound, the cars must be more substantial, and the entire management of all the roads must be perfected in every department. Unless this is done, accidents will continue to multiply, more and more lives will be lost, and traveling by railroad will become utterly unsafe.

It is absurd and useless, moreover, to attempt the correction of these evils by penal legislation. An engine-driver has his life at stake every hour—the probable penalty of an accident to him is death. It is idle to attempt to make him more careful by threatening him with fine and imprisonment. The companies are now the heaviest losers by accidents upon their roads, and, for their own interest, will naturally do everything in their power to prevent them. Their excuse now is the lack of means to perfect the management of their roads. Those in this State which are restricted by law to two cents a mile, allege that it is impossible at that rate to make their roads what they ought to be; and they are now applying to the Legislature for a removal of this restriction. Naturally enough, the public resist it. They are not willing to pay any more, but they demand a great deal more for what they pay already. They assert that the roads earn enough at present rates to perfect their construction, equipment and management, and that nothing but the eagerness for exorbitant dividends diverts their receipts from being used in that way.

There is a way of reconciling both these claims and of serving the public interest at the same time. Let the Legislature remove the restriction as to rates, and impose a restriction as to dividends. Permit the Central Railroad, for example, to charge two and a half cents a mile, and restrict them to eight per cent dividends in any year. Whatever they earn over this should be put into the road—into the perfection of its track, the relaying of rails, the rebuilding of bridges, the improvement of cars, the increase of rolling stock and the general accommodation of the traveling and freighting public. In this way the great body of those who ride will be far more thoroughly accommodated than by an enforced reduction of fare—the road will be improved and the value of their stock largely increased as a permanent investment, even if the immediate returns are not so large. And if there is fear lest the managers should hide their profits and evade the law, let their accounts be subject to the inspection and correction at pleasure of the State Comptroller.

This is substantially the manner in which railroads in Europe are controlled by law, and there is no reason why it should not be adopted here. Everything hitherto has looked to large immediate returns and to cheap fares; it is time some attention was paid to the safety of the public and the permanent value of the roads. If we continue our present system ten years longer, we shall not have a road in the State on which any prudent man would risk his life. We commend these suggestions to the attention of the Legislature.

The Rebellion and the Revolution in Public Sentiment in England.

If there is nothing so difficult to believe in as human consistency, there is nothing so easy of belief as the thorough inconsistency of that which takes the indefinite name of public opinion. Reading such a telegraphic abstract of the views of the London press as we publish to-day, we are forced either to the conclusion that some of the foremost of these British organs are only now, for the first time, in actual possession of the real facts of this rebellion, or that, as some one concludes, "the puff of accidents carries most of us along with them, according to its own proclivity."

The London Times, which, during foor full years, has taught the people of England to believe that the rebel Confederacy was a permanent and indestructible political fabric, now, at last, confesses that the population of the Southeastern States is not able to oppose the march of the Federal armies. The London oracle, although not forgetful of SHERMAN'S Winter march through the very centre of rebeldom, seems to have got its new logic mainly from a single incident in SHERMAN'S subsequent progress—the fall of Charleston. The influence of that result, the Times says, "can hardly be exaggerated," and "its moral effects," it is added, "cannot but be most powerful on the conduct of the war." With an equal contempt for the "rascally virtue" of consistency, the Morning Post, deriving its inspiration direct from the British Foreign Office, has transferred its homage from LEE to SHERMAN, and places the latter at once, and with no previous warning, in the very foremost rank of "the Generals of the present day." To all this there comes an echo, distinct and decisive, from the recognized organ of the British army. The Army and Navy Gazette (Dr. RUSSELL) believes that the rebel army is placed "in a position of exceeding danger," from which the genius neither of LEE nor DAVIS can extricate it. And with a better apprehension of the actual situation than some of its cotemporaries, the military organ again declares that "the purpose of GRANT becomes more apparent as the campaign advances. He holds LEE fast, and thus paralyzes the strongest army, and neutralizes the greatest force of the Confederacy."

The sagacity and honest purpose of the liberal press of London (headed by the Daily News and Star) naturally begin now to find their account, and we can well understand how the occasion of this complete discomfiture of their opponents is improved in their comments on our recent victories.

The commercial and financial revolution in the great markets of the United Kingdom promises to be as complete as that in the tone of political opinion. While money is a drug at four per cent., consols are quoted as low as 88¾; United States securities show an advance of two per cent. in one day; gold shipments to New-York are the talk on 'Change; the "Confederate" loan has declined twice as much as our national securities have advanced; and cotton is threatened with an instant and inevitable fall.

These are some of the results of the capture of Charleston alone. Within a day or two after the receipt of this news in London, they got intelligence of the fall of Wilmington; and from the relations of the British commercial interests to that place, we may imagine how vastly it added to the effect of our previous decisive victories. When they learn that SHERMAN'S army has burst victoriously into North Carolina, and that SCHOFIELD has an army at Wilmington waiting to reinforce him in his march to Richmond, we have no doubt they will reach the same high confidence in the success, the power, and the permanence of our Government that now prevails universally here.

The Battle-Ground in North Carolina.

North Carolina bids fair, at length, to divide with Virginia the field of conflict during the grand, final campaign of 1865. In these two States, the great bulk of the military forces of the Union are now gathered. South Carolina has been triumphantly fought over by us, and is already abandoned by both combatants. The movement on Mobile is to be regarded, in a broad view, rather as the very best method of employing the troops necessarily stationed as the garrison of the great Mississippi Valley, than as an integral part of the eastern combinations. The other forces stand in equipoise. KIRBY SMITH, PRICE and MAGRUDER, west of the Mississippi, are held in check by our various forces in Arkansas and Louisiana. A line of fortified posts in Tennessee defends that region from the threatened raids of FORREST.

The main interest of the great campaign centres around North Carolina and Virginia. The former State is at this moment penetrated by three of our columns impelled from as many different directions, two from the Atlantic coast, with sea-bases, and one from the western boundary, a strict movable column. Of these, the reinforced garrison at Newbern forms the easterly column; SCHOFIELD'S troops, at Wilmington, form the centre column; and SHERMAN, who has already burst across the country into the Old North State, the western. Just north of the State borders lie the two great armies under GRANT and LEE, each grimly watching every movement of the other, and so close to the North Carolina field that all our armies may now be fairly reckoned within coöperating distance. So grand a military spectacle has not yet been witnessed in the field of war.

It is quite evident that SHERMAN'S route into North Carolina was by far the best. At Columbia, two paths lay before him, each promising certain advantages. The one which his previous course had indicated as probable, leads directly up the railroad to Charlotte, thence to Salisbury, thence to Greensboro. Could this have been successfully pursued, its results would have been astonishing. First, it would have secured the three great railroad junctions already named, and insured the destruction of hundreds of miles of the chief railway line left to the Confederacy. Next, the slightest easterly advance from Greensboro would have forced the evacuation and capture of Raleigh. Finally, his columns would have threatened Lynchburgh from the west, and would have cut off LEE'S retreat from Richmond, by interposing an army on his front and flank. But it was too dangerous an experiment. It involved the traversing of distances too enormous even for that strategy which has struck the world with astonishment by its boldness during the latter year of our war. It exposed SHERMAN'S army to the certainty of a series of battles. If successful, they would have cost him all his ammunition, and he would have been forced to drop his conquests, and retreat from his own victories. If unsuccessful, they would have left him hundreds of miles away from succor, and with a Moscow retreat to the coast as his only alternative.

The lower route was judiciously chosen. It has proved to be attended by advantages greater even than those of the other, and by none of its perils. By moving from Columbia to Cheraw, and from Cheraw across toward Fayetteville, SHERMAN has outgeneraled JOHNSTON again, marching past his flank, and forcing him to follow at a rapid pace if he wishes to fight. Being compelled himself to march, he forces that necessity also upon his opponent. He takes away the enemy's hope of successful concentration far up in the mountainous region, where defeat to SHERMAN would be destruction. JOHNSTON, who had watched to see whether unparalelled success would turn the head of his adversary, and lead him at last to a rash step, is again baffled and disappointed. This move, also, puts SHERMAN in direct coöperation with SCHOFIELD. He can get supplies and ammunition from the latter by way of Cape Fear River, in case of needing them. He has a base to fall back upon in case of disaster. He is now traversing a region which no army has ever trod. It is high, fertile, and full of supplies. The roads are excellent, and now in good condition. The marshes which stretch away to the southeast, toward the coast, do not reach so high as SHERMAN'S present position. The people are well-to-do and, better than all, as loyal as in any part of the South. If anywhere in North Carolina supplies are to be had, it is precisely in the country SHERMAN is now traversing.

The present movement, also, directly aids SCHOFIELD'S task, by forcing the enemy to withdraw from his front, to avoid being flanked. Even Raleigh is quite as directly threatened by this route as by the other, and Goldsboro still more so. But the taking of Raleigh will produce the evacuation of Goldsboro. Neither point is likely to be given up without a hard struggle, for their loss will signify too surely the loss of Richmond.

Such, then, are the moves by which the forces of the Union have been marshaled into position on the North Carolina field. The genius of the preparation is the best augury of success.

A SUGGESTION.—Mr. ACTON, one of the Commissioners of Police, has stated several times that he knew the parties who incited the riots of 1863; and day before yesterday he repeated this assertion before the Senatorial Committee, and declared that he could put his hand on the man who was at the bottom of the outrage and prove his guilt. Would it not be well for Mr. ACTON to place his information before the Grand Jury? It would be much more useful to that body than to the Senate Committee. Mr. A., moreover, would then have a chance to prove what he can now only assert. We commend this suggestion to his attention.

Mining in the Pacific States.

LETTER FROM PROF. SILLIMAN.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your very just remarks on "Mining in the Pacific States," in your issue of Monday, there is a paragraph calculated to convey an erroneous impression respecting the present and past management of the Gould & Curry mine, which I desire to correct. It refers to the total product of this remarkable mine, which is quoted much too high. My remark in the lecture referred to should have coupled the Gould & Curry and Savage mines, where mentioning $18,000,000 as the total product of bullion. These mines adjoin each other, and the rich body of ore on which they are at work is divided between them. Together, they have probably produced the sum named. The Gould & Curry's three annual reports call for nearly $11,000,000. The present improved methods of milling or reducing the ores have reduced the average loss probably to 30 or 35 per cent.; some even claim to save 80 per cent. of the assay product in "pans mills." That in the earlier years of Nevada experience not over 50 per cent. was saved, is the general opinion of the best metallurgists in daily familiarity with the facts of the case. Now, only low grade ores are treated by "pans process;" formerly, ores of high grade were thus treated, and great loss resulted.

The Freyberg process (roasting with salt) is now almost universal for all ores over $80 per ton in value.

Permit me to add a word more respecting the rewards of capital employed in deep mining in California proper. The best returns which gold quartz mining have yet yielded in California have been obtained in these mines which have been worked on private account, as in the case of the well-known Hayward Mine in Amador County, now at a depth of over 900 feet, returning better results than at any former period of its history; (it was unprofitable on and near the surface;) or the Watt's Mine, in Grass Valley, where the quartz at over 300 feet depth, is worth from $50 to $80 the ton. It is hardly an exception to this remark to say that the famous Allison's Ranch Mine is owned by an association of half a dozen working men, (risen from common miners,) since this extremely rich Grass Valley Mine is still completely a private property; as is also another often quoted case, that of the Reis Mine, on the Downieville Buttes, in Sierra County, where the nett amount of profits divided for six years to 1863, among the five or six owners, was $593,000; the mine having paid besides this, since 1857, (when it was first systematically worked,) all the costs of its own development, its mills and machinery, and a heavy cost for introducing water in a flume several miles in length.

In Grass Valley (in Nevada County) all the mines are individual ownerships, with two or three exceptions, the business being managed with the same care which is required for success in any private manufacturing business. There is no objection to incorporated organizations, per se; on the contrary, they have much to commend them in the management of mines, as you have justly observed. The objectionable feature of these organizations, as too often presented, is that they are by unscrupulous persons made only speculative devices for the waste or misapplication of capital. Opportunities for the proper use of either individual or associated capital, in gold-quartz or silver-quartz mining, are by no means difficult to find, either in California, Oregon, Idaho or Nevada, if only those who propose to unite will act advisedly, employing the same caution and sagacity which they would use in any other legitimate enterprise. The number of persons in California who have thus acquired large fortunes is much larger than you seem to suppose. Those who know the individual history of Californians will confirm this remark. Propriety forbids the mention of names, but there can be no impropriety in mentioning as one case, the owners of the sumptuous Cosmopolitan Hotel, opened last September in San Francisco, who are all successful miners, although the half-million in gold (and more) which this splendid mansion of public hospitality cost, represents but a small portion of their united fortunes.

But this does not in the least impair the force of the truth to which you invite attention in the article quoted, that cheap capital is much needed in California, for the development of its mineral riches, the judicious use of which, whether by individuals or associations, will be amply rewarded.

Yours respectfully, B. SILLIMAN.
NEW-HAVEN, Monday, March 13, 1865.

Testimonial to Mrs. Vernon.

The following letter has been addressed to Mrs. VERNON:

MRS. VERNON—Dear Madam: We notice with much pleasure that you are to have a benefit at Wallack's Theatre on Friday next, when we are sure that a large and appreciative audience will be present to attest the high esteem entertained for you by the public, whose admiration has attended your career during so many years of professional and personal excellence.

Our delightful reminiscences of the "Old Park Theatre" in its palmy days, naturally suggest that it is a long time since we first saw you there; yet in your agreeable society, wherever you appear, the influence of years seems lost, and the past and the present blend mysteriously but pleasantly with each other. Thus "time works wonder" indeed.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity to express our sincere regard for the qualities which you have so well employed in adorning equally mimic and real life, and we beg you to accept a slight memorial of our respect, which we will take much pleasure in sending to you on Friday.

Respectfully and truly yours,

James T. Brady,	James R. Wood,

FROM NEWBERN.

Arrival of Rebel Prisoners—Gen. Schofield's Movements—Gen. Couche's Force from Wilmington to join Schofield.

FORT MONROE, Wednesday, March 15.

The steamer Rebecca Clyde, with 350 rebel prisoners, captured near Kinston, North Carolina, during the late battles, arrived here this morning from Newbern, North Carolina.

The latest advices from Gen. SCHOFIELD represented him as still advancing toward Kingston, and there were rumors in Newbern, when the Rebecca Clyde sailed on the 13th, to the effect that BRAGG had evacuated the town, and that our forces had taken possion of the place.

The prisoners who came up on the Rebecca Clyde were a fine-looking set of men, and belonged to Maj.-Gen. HOKE'S division, having been sent from Gen. LEE'S army only a week since, with the view of operating against our forces in North Carolina.

All the available yontoon trains at Newbern had been sent to Gen. SCHOFIELD, and even if Gen. BRAGG had not evacuated Kinston, no doubt was entertained but that our forces could easily cross the Neuse River and give battle to the enemy before he could get away.

Maj.-Gen. COUCH'S forces, from Wilmington, had reached Gen. SCHOFIELD, and his army, thus reinforced, was deemed amply sufficient to defeat BRAGG'S army, which was judged to be about 25,000 strong.

The new Pacific mail steamship Colorado arrived here yesterday afternoon from New-York, on a trial trip. The weather looks threatening, with the wind from the northeast.

THE DRAFT IN NEW YORK.

The Dispatch of Lieut.-Gov. Alvord Concerning the Probable Suspension of Drafting in this State.

SENATE CHAMBER, Albany, Thursday, March 16.

The telegram dated Washington, March 16, from Provost-Marshal-General FRY, in regard to the draft, published in the evening papers, has just come to my notice. Gov. FENTON'S circular was based upon my telegram from Washington. I take the liberty of giving it to the public, and to state that it was according to my understanding of the facts, which fully justify the statements made in the circular referred to.

(Signed,) THOMAS G. ALVORD.

WASHINGTON, March 11, 1865.

To Gov. R. E. Fenton:

There will be no draft ordered on the 15th in our State as long as, and wherever recruiting is progressing tolerably fast; and where a draft has been had the men will not be called for as long as men are fairly recruited at those points. If any Provost-Marshals do not act us to this, Gen. FRY, by your telegraphing, will set them right. This from the President and Gen. FRY.

(Signed,) THOMAS G. ALVORD.

The Draft Yesterday.

Drafting was continued yesterday in all the districts of the city, without any trouble, opposition or disturbance. Correspondence has taken place in various directions about the draft and its postponement, but the subject still remains somewhat obscure. The order under which the draft has been carried on thus far seems to be the following:

WAR DEPARTMENT, PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL'S BUREAU, WASHINGTON, March 11, 1865.

Maj. R. J. Dodge, Twelfth U. S. Infantry, Acting Assistant Provost-Marshal-General, New-York City, N. Y.:

MAJOR: Application for the postponement of the draft has been made by the State authorities, and declined, but in order to give the districts a fair opportunity to fill their quotas with volunteers, you will, in all districts in which the Board of Enrollment is fully employed on that date in the examination and mustering of volunteers, direct that the draft will not be made, so long as recruiting continues to that extent.

If, after a draft has been made in any district, and before the drafted men have reported, recruiting shall commence to the extent above stated, you will not call the drafted men into service, so long as such recruiting continues.

I am, Major, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
JAS. B. FRY, Provost-Marshal-General.

A true copy: H. F. BROWNSON, A. A. G.

Here follows also Gen. FRY'S note to Gov. FENTON about the Governor's circular on delaying the draft:

PROVOST-MARSHAL GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, March 15.

His Excellency Governor R. E. Fenton, Albany:

Your telegram of yesterday is just received. I have not seen your circular about the draft, and do not understand your dispatch. No delay that I know of has been authorized, nor is it likely that any will be permitted on any other conditions than those heretofore stated and repeated, to wit: That if the boards are fully occupied in the examination of volunteers, the delay to continue only so long as they are fully occupied in that way.

JAMES B. FRY, Provost-Marshal-General.

Yet further: Capt. BROWNSEN yesterday wrote to Capt. WAGNER of the Seventh District, as follows:

OFFICE OF A. A. PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL, NEW-YORK, March 16, 1865.

Capt. F. C. Wagner, Provost-Marshal Seventh District:

CAPTAIN: You will suspend the draft in your district to-morrow, 17th inst., to be resumed on 18th inst., without further orders.

Very respectfully your obedient servant,
A. F. BROWNSON,
A. A. G. in charge of office.

Official—CHAS. RYAN, Lieut. and Inspector.

These documents, taken all together, seem to indicate that the draft will be completed, and that the liability to be put into service will be suffered to operate for a time as a stimulant to volunteering. If it should fail, the intimation seems to be the drafted men must serve; for the city quota must be filled, and promptly.

At the conclusion of the drafting in one of the districts at least, the continuance of the operation was formally announced to-day, the District Provost-Marshal evidently fully expecting to proceed accordingly.

Some of the results of yesterday's work may be noted. No district was completed, except the Sixth, (Ninth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth Wards.) In the Fourth Ward, 1,002 names were drawn, being all due from the ward. In the Ninth Ward, 1,644 names were drawn; in the Eleventh, 1,000; in the Twelfth, 1,159; in the Fifteenth, 976; in the Sixteenth, 1,514; in the Nineteenth, 1,330; and in the Twenty-second, 1,542.

Among the names drawn were those of a number of eminent and well-known persons, including Hon. H. J. RAYMOND, editor of the TIMES; Baron OSTEN-SACKEN; F. J. OTTARSON, Esq., of the TIMES; Judge CARDOZO, Aldermen RYERS, ex-Alderman DAYTON, and Dr. ZACHARIE, of chiropodo-political renown.

The number of persons drawn who resided at the various hotels of the city was noticeable, the New-York Hotel in particular contributing largely to the national defence. Single vessels in the harbor sometimes experienced similar runs of luck, the ship Universe, for instance, having four or five of her crew drawn.

A Card from Dr. George S. Woodman.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Permit me in a few words of explanation in regard to my recent detention at the Astor House upon the order of Col. BAKER. They are rendered necessary by the errors which have appeared in newspapers.

First, I do not complain of the action of the agents of the Government. The position I accepted rendered me liable to the stringent proceedings of military authorities, in the investigation of charges of irregularities in the Provost-Marshal's office. No doubt it was a fair exercise of discretion by them to temporarily detain any person into whose official acts they desired to make inquiry. Except in the restrains of my liberty I suffered no hardship, and was treated with courtesy.

At the termination of the inquiry I was at once released. In regard to the admissions I am reported to have made in the presence of Hon. Mr. HUMPHREY and G. F. JAMES, Esq., both of whom called, of their own accord, upon Col. BAKER and Mr. CHITTENDEN, to testify as personal friends to my character, and to offer me any aid in their power, I can say that the newspaper statements are, in letter and in spirit, incorrect and untrue.

It may not be improper to correct also the misstatement of the reporter in the NEW-YORK TIMES, of Tuesday last, in regard to the near family relationship between Hon. Mr. HUMPHREY and myself. No such relationship exists; and I have no claim on either of the above-named gentlemen except my character for integrity and fidelity to truth. The conversation also which took place between Col. BAKER and myself alone, was very different from that reported in the papers.

It is not worth while here to state in detail the circumstances out of which this story has been made, and the public journal is not the proper tribunal before which I should appear.

I desire simply to state to my friends (and I am glad to state they are many) that before any court, either civil or military, I can fully establish my innocence of any charge affecting my integrity.

GEO. S. WOODMAN, M. D.

THE UNITED STATES CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—The United States Christian Commission will hold a public meeting at the Academy of Music on Sunday evening next, as will be seen by an advertisement in another column. Rev. Dr. VINTON will preside, and several able speakers, fresh from the army, will address the meeting. The work of the Christian Commission in the army and navy, since the beginning of the war, has been one of great interest and importance, and all who love to hear about the work ought to attend the meeting on Sunday evening.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, March 16.

THE FRENCH MISSION.

The offer of the French Mission to JAMES GORDON BENNETT excites some comment in political circles. It is said to have been made partly on the strength of a strong letter of recommendation from HORACE GREELEY. The statement that it has been declined is premature.

SECRETARY USHER.

The rumors prejudicial to Secretary USHER will turn out to be mere scandal. The moving cause of these assaults may possibly be that contracts and offices to be given out by the Interior Department will be disposed of by the present Secretary. Such, however, will not be the case. Judge USHER, with great delicacy, refuses to do any act of this sort, but refers all patronage to his successor. The record of Secretary USHER is clear. His accusers are either malignant or grossly deceived. He invites scrutiny.

EXPORT OF GOLD FROM CALIFORNIA.

From letters received to-day from California by a gentleman in the Treasury Department, it is estimated that for the next nine months the exports from that State will be upward of seven million dollars per month.

THE VOTE FRAUD TRIALS.

The Military Court to-day disposed of the case of JOHN CAHILL and JAMES DEVLIN. The finding of the court will not be made known for some days. The evidence is very strong against these men.

GEN. GRANT'S ORDER ABOUT TRADE.

The order of Gen. GRANT relative to trade permits does not apply to those issued to trade on the Mississippi. The object of this order is to prevent supplies of any kind reaching the Gulf States.

RUMORS OF THE EVACUATION OF RICHMOND.

Reports have been in circulation this evening that Gen. GRANT had telegraphed to the President to the effect that Gen. LEE was evacuating Richmond and Petersburgh. After diligent inquiry we are satisfied that there is no truth in the report.

LEE'S ARMY IN MOTION.

From information received to-night, there is no doubt that LEE's army is on the move. Gen. GRANT is fully aware of his designs and will attend to his case all in good time.

THE NEW-YORK CUSTOM HOUSE.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

ALBANY, Thursday, March 16.

Numerous petitions were presented against the Broadway Railroad.

BILLS REPORTED.

Authorizing gas light companies to lay pipes along plank roads and turnpike roads.

To amend the Quarantine laws.

Relative to the Court of Special Sessions of New-York.

A communication was received from the Mechanics' Association of New-York, in favor of a paid Fire Department.

Mr. FOLGER introduced a bill providing that all horse railroad companies may employ any person of age as driver, conductor or otherwise, notwithstanding any city ordinance to the contrary.

BILLS PASSED.

Authorizing the International Coal Company to construct a railroad to its mines.

Establishing the Cornell University.

Amending the charter of the New-York Law Institute.

For equalizing tow throughout the State.

Amending the Brooklyn charter.

The Broadway and Crosstown Railroad Bills were made the special order for next Thursday morning.

ASSEMBLY.

ALBANY, Thursday, March 16.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

To limit the tenure of officers in the New-York State Militia.

To legalize the resolutions of the Brooklyn Common Council.

The Buffalo Police Bill was recommitted with power to report complete.

Recess.

The Amendment to the Constitution.

BUFFALO, Thursday, March 16.

The Courier gives as the result of the voting of Tuesday a majority for the amendment. The vote was very small in this city. The towns of Colden, Alden, Elma, Lancaster and Tonawanda all give majorities against the amendment.

Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liverspot,) and Lentigo or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either; and any preparation that will effectually remove them WITHOUT INJURING THE TEXTURE OR COLOR OF THE SKIN, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD-LIVER OIL AND LIME.—The great advantage of this compound over the plain oil is, that the nauseating taste of the oil is entirely removed, and the whole rendered entirely palatable. The offensive taste of the oil has long acted as a prominent objection to its use; but in this form the trouble is entirely obviated. A host of certificates might be given here to testify to the excellence and success of WILBOR'S Cod-Liver Oil and Lime. But the fact that it is regularly prescribed by the medical faculty is sufficient. For sale by ALEX'R B. WILBOR, Chemist, No. 166 Court-st., Boston; in New-York by J. Cullhan, No. 182 Broadway, and Demas Barnes & Co., No. 21 Park-row, and by F. C. Wells & Co.

PROPERTY OF THE COMPANY.

No. 1.—THIRTY-THREE ACRES of land in fee simple, known as the Geo. W. Tarr Farm, on Cherry Tree Run. THIRTY (30) WELLS are under lease. Royalty one-quarter oil, WHICH BELONGS TO THIS INTEREST. Fourteen acres, not leased, FOR WHICH A BONUS AND ONE-HALF OIL CAN READILY BE OBTAINED.

No. 2.—SIX leases on Dempsey Farm, Cherry Tree Run. Entire working interest in each. The company was advised March 4 that a 40-barrel well was struck just above this property, and a 150-barrel well on the next farm to it. In consequence of the striking of these wells, property cannot now be bought in their vicinity for TEN TIMES the cost of these leases to the Company.

No. 3.—One-eighth (⅛) all the oil, free interest, in lease No. 12, McFate Farm, Cherry Run. March 6, well was struck on this lease, now yielding ONE HUNDRED BARRELS.

No. 4.—Three-seventh working interest in each of three leases on Cherry Run, near the "Good Refinery," below the Humboldt Works. A fine well has just been struck adjoining this interest.

No. 5.—One-eighth working interest in one acre, just below the Reed Wells, on Cherry Run. Well now over FIVE HUNDRED FEET DOWN. Will be tested in a few days.

No. 6.—Five-sixteenth working interest in lease B, on Smith Farm, Cherry Run. One well to be put down free of further cost, and one-sixteenth of this interest tested for one month free of expense. This lease adjoins the Mackey well. Well under contract.

No. 7.—One-fourth working interest in lease No. 29, Smith Farm, Cherry Run, (at end of the old barn, and next well to the Grocery, now the largest on the Run.) This well also to be put down free of further expense, and one-sixteenth of the interest tested and tested one month free of cost. WELL NOW DOWN 520 FEET, WITH A VERY FINE SHOW OF OIL.

No. 8.—Three-sixteenths in the lease, and the Dalton well on Smith farm, Cherry Run. NOW A SEVENTY-FIVE BARREL WELL AND IMPROVING. Another well to go down on same lease.

No. 9.—Three-sixteenths working interest in lease No. 12, Widow McClintock farm, Oil Creek: WELL NOW PRODUCING ABOUT FIFTY BARRELS DAILY AND GAINING; it is a new well.

No. 10.—One eighth working interest in lease No. 49, Widow McClintock Farm, Oil Creek: one well down—ABOUT TWENTY BARRELS PER DAY; another started on same lease.

No. 11.—One-half working interest in lease on Cherry Run, just above Humboldt's refinery. Size of lot 90 feet by 150 feet.

No. 12.—One-eighth working interest in one acre lease and the Buffalo well, on the Blood farm, Oil Creek. This WELL FLOWS SIX BARRELS PER DAY.

No. 13.—All the working interest in lease No. 2, Prather reserve, Cherry Run; contains about one acre.

No. 14.—One-eighth working interest in lease on Widow McClintock farm, Oil Creek; well just struck THIRTY BARRELS, and increasing.

No. 15.—One-eighth working interest in lease on Dan Byrd farm, Cherry-tree Run, near the Tarr farm; a choice lot—three-quarters of an acre.

No. 16.—Three-eighth working interest in the Rickett's well, on the Rickett's farm, Oil Creek, above Plumer. Lease one acre—royalty half oil.

No. 17.—ONE HUNDRED AND TEN ACRES of land in fee simple, on Holeman's Run, NEAR THE UNITED STATES PETROLEUM COMPANY'S WELL, No. 23. This lays well for oil, and is considered very valuable territory.

No. 18.—One-eighth working interest in the New-Grocery well, and lease on Smith's farm, on Cherry Run. This well is now yielding TWO HUNDRED AND EIGHTY BARRELS PER DAY, and it is thought by the most experienced oil men, will shortly be a 300 barrel well.

TO INVESTERS IN PETROLEUM STOCKS.

THIS COMPANY OFFERS THE FOLLOWING INDUCEMENTS, VIZ.:

1st. An ample working capital.
2d. Large properties now yielding, and its new interests being rapidly developed.
3d. Prospects of extraordinary returns from its Cherry Tree Run properties.
4th. Small capital on which to pay dividends.

CHOICE OIL LANDS IN WESTERN VIRGINIA.—The subscribers offer for sale, 4,000 acres of excellent oil land, situated on the little Kanawha River and its tributaries, in Calhoun and Wirt Counties, West Virginia, in quantities, from one to one thousand or more acres, to suit purchasers. This is very desirable oil territory, pretty thoroughly tested by adjacent borings, and rich in oil and minerals, as well as in good timber and soil. It would form an excellent basis for several large or many small oil companies. For further information, or for the purchase of all or any part of this land, address WILSON KING, Erie, Penn., or Rev. D. R. A. McLEAN, Hotel, Astor Ho., York.

The lands and possessions of this company are situated in the heart of the oil region of Venango County, Pennsylvania, and are, in brief, as follows:

FEE SIMPLE.

100 acres on both sides Tionesta Creek.
20 acres on both sides Stuart's Run.

Interests in a well on Smith Farm, PUMPING FORTY BARRELS PER DAY; in the new Balliete Well, FLOWING FORTY BARRELS PER DAY, AND INCREASING; in the famous Auburn Well, FLOWING SEVENTY BARRELS PER DAY; in the new Faunce Well, PUMPING FORTY BARRELS PER DAY; and in the celebrated Jersey Well, now FLOWING 250 PER DAY. Also, interests in FOUR WELLS NOW GOING DOWN, and the Company have commenced to sink WELLS ON THEIR OWN PROPERTY.

The incorporators design making this a permanent company, whose stock shall become an excellent investment rather than a mere means of speculation. Those among them having the largest financial interest in its affairs, will devote themselves personally to its management.

Its lands and wells will be constantly and thoroughly developed. Oil, and not stock, will be made the source of its revenue.

The subscription books for a limited number of shares of the stock of this company are now open at the office of the company, and at the office of either of the above-named trustees.

(ATLANTIC INSURANCE COMPANY.)

The properties of this company are in the heart of Venango County, Penn., rich in Petroleum, the titles good and secure, and are sufficiently scattered to insure against the failure of the product of all which might occur in any one locality, and the managers hold a sufficiently large pecuniary interest to guarantee that the company's affairs will receive their unremitting attention.

FEE SIMPLE.

TWENTY ACRES OF THE McKINLEY FARM, on Stewart's Run, lying in the bottom both sides of the creek, within a mile of the famous UNITED STATES WELL.

2.

NINE SECTIONS, with ample room for 18 wells, of the KEYSER FARM, on Cherry Run, above the great Reed Well. Two wells going down, engines and all appurtenances to be delivered to this company free of expense.

3.

"HOLLODAY WELL," situated in Oil City, directly on the river, including the 12-horse power engine, tank and appurtenances, together with a house which rents for $20 per month. This well recently pumped 17 barrels per day, and on removal of the house there is room for 3 more wells on this property.

LEASED INTEREST.

The one-quarter working interest, which is three-quarters of all the oil, of 50 acres of KEECH FARM, on Pit Hole Creek. This farm is within a mile of the United States Well, just struck. Three wells are now going down on this property, engines and appurtenances to be delivered free of expense to this company, and others will be commenced soon. Lease 20 years.

5.

The one-quarter working interest, which is three-quarters of all the oil, of 36 acres, of TURNER FARM, on Pit Hole Creek; all bottom land. Five wells started: engines and appurtenances to be delivered to this company free of expense. Lease 20 years.

6.

The one-quarter working interest, which is three-quarters of all the oil, of 30 acres of the VOCE FARM, Pit Hole Creek, selected bottom land, and next to above farm, within a mile of the United States Well. One well commenced drilling, and two more wells started on this farm; engines and appurtenances to be delivered free of expense to this company. Lease, 20 years.

7.

The quarter working interest, which is three-fourths of all the oil, of 20 acres of the FLEMING FARM, Pit Hole Creek, near the above; wells to be commenced on the opening of Spring. Lease, 20 years.

Ample room for 553 additional wells on above 141 acres, all flat boreable land.

The one-quarter working interest, which is three-fourths of all the oil, in 8 acres of the LAKE FARM, Pit Hole Creek, within a mile of the United States Well; wells to be started on the opening of Spring. Lease, 20 years.

9.

The one-eighth working interest in the AUBURN WELL, on Cherry Run, (70 barrels,) on which lease another well is already started, three rods from said well; engines and appurtenances to be delivered to this company free of expense.

10

The working interest, being one-half the oil, in Lease No. 6, HENRY BEND, Alleghany River, only a few rods from the celebrated Heydrick Well, which has produced over 54,000 barrels, and is now pumping 60 barrels per day. One well going down, on the Lease. Engine and appurtenances to be delivered to this company free of expense.

11

The working interest, being one-half the oil, in Lease No. 13, HENRY BEND, on same farm as above. A well is now going down. Engine and appurtenances to be delivered free of expense to this company.

12

The working interest, being one-half the oil, in Lease No. 9, HEYDRICK FARM, Pit-hole Run, within 100 rods of Alleghany River. A well is now going down. Engine and appurtenances to be delivered free of expense to this company. Lease 14 years.

13

The working interest in Lease No. 24, HEYDRICK FARM, Pit-hole Run. Well going down. Engine and appurtenances to be delivered free of expense to this company. Lease 14 years.

The property of the Company consists of about twelve hundred acres of selected oil territory in Washington County, Ohio, distributed into fifteen tracts, all within a radius of ten miles of the City of Marietta. Three tracts, of two hundred and three acres, are located on Long Run; four tracts, of four hundred acres, on the Little Muskingum; and the other tracts are distributed upon Eight Mile Creek, Fifteen Mile Creek, Morse Run, and the west fork of Morse River, on Paw-Paw Creek, and on Whipple Run.

This property is represented by experts to be of the most promising character, oil indications abounding, especially on Long Run, where wells of other companies are now producing large supplies of heavy lubricating oil. Twelve wells are in process of boring, and machinery, tools, engines and everything necessary for the rapid development of the property are being procured.

The entire purchase money having been paid, the company is now in full possession of the property.

A limited number only of the 100,000 reserved shares may be obtained at the subscription price of $1, being full paid stock without further assessment, at the office of

The present and prospective value of the stock of this company may be inferred from the fact that it owns a fee-simple interest in 473 (four hundred and seventy-three) acres of the richest tested oil territory in Venango County, believed by the most experienced oil men in that region, to be capable of producing a net annual income to the company, of one and a half million of dollars, or three times the entire cost of the stock, which would be equivalent to twenty-five per cent. a month on its subscription price, or, one hundred and fifty per cent. per annum on its par value.

A FEW PLAIN WORDS TO SUCSCRIBERS.

The basis on which the company rests, it is believed will make your investment, not only safe, but, prospectively, of enormous value, because, at the present price of oil, the company's annual receipts, without any further development, are forty thousand dollars, or 8 per cent. on the cost of the stock.

The President, Mr. Stewart, is one of the most practical and experienced oil operators in the State, and his residence, near the company's property, and general oversight of its management, is the best guarantee that no efforts will be spared to make the investment profitable.

Books of subscription are now open at the office of EVANS & WORDEN, No. 71 Broadway, Room No. 71, where prospecti can be had and full particulars given. All communications promptly attended to.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC CHARITIES AND CORRECTION, No. 1, Bond-st., NEW-YORK, March 3, 1865.

PROPOSALS FOR MILK.—SEALED PROposals will be received by the Commissioners of Public Charities and Correction at their Office, No. 1 Bond-st., until 12 o'clock M., of the 20th inst., from Producers, for supplying Bellevue Hospital, Blackwell's and Randall's Islands for one year, commencing on the 1st of April next, with pure unskimmed Country Milk. Satisfactory evidence will be required as to the ability of parties to furnish the quantity without default at the times specified, and the proposals to be accompanied with the names of two responsible persons under their signatures for the faithful performance of the contract. The Commissioners reserve to themselves the power of receiving or rejecting any or all propositions or portions thereof as they may deem proper for the interest of the Department. Any information required will be furnished on application to the Commissioners at their office.

S. DRAPER,
ISAAC BELL,
JAMES B. NICHOLSON,
MOSES H. GRINNELL,
Commissioners.

ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE, No. 19 STATE-ST., NEW-YORK CITY, March 15, 1865.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at this office until 12 o'clock M. on MONDAY, the 20th inst., for the delivery, during this month, of 500 tons coal at Fort Schuyler, and 500 tons at Willet's Point. The coal is to be the best quality of anthracite, stove and egg sizes, and to be delivered on the docks free of expenses to the Government. The contractor can, however, avail himself of the privilege of having the coal hoisted by the teams at the posts, at the current rate of unloading by the ton.

Bidders will be required to accompany their proposals with guarantees, signed by two responsible parties, that, in case their bids are accepted, they will, within two days thereafter, execute a contract for the same, with good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of $3,000, to deliver the coal. Payment for each cargo in such funds as the Government may provide, upon the acknowledgment of the proper receipting officer of the posts. The privilege is reserved of rejecting any or all of the bids, if deemed advisable. Bids should be indorsed and addressed to the undersigned.

"Proposals for Coal,"

Captain and Assistant Quartermaster.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR HIDES, TALLOW, HOOFS, HORNS, CHUCKS, SHINS, AND TONGUES.

OFFICE DEPOT COMMISSARY OF SUBSISTENCE, WASHINGTON, D. C., March 10, 1865.

Sealed Proposals, in duplicate, are invited until the 21st day of March, at 11 o'clock A. M., for Hides, Tallow, Hoofs, Horns, Chucks, Shins, and Tongues, of all Government Cattle slaughtered within the ancient limits of the District of Columbia, for four months or more, from the commencement of the contract.

The above articles to be collected by the contractor, and removed from the various places at which the cattle are killed, at such times as may be designated by the officer in charge.

The number of Cattle used monthly vary from 1,000 to 3,000, and are now killed at Chain Bridge, Giesboro', Convalescent Camp, Washington, and Alexandria, but other places may occur within the prescribed limits where these articles will be required to be collected.

The contractor shall be liable for all the Hides, Tallow, Hoofs, Horns, Chucks, Shins and Tongues, coming from all the Government beef cattle slaughtered, unless it can be made satisfactorily to appear to the Subsistence Department that all due exertion, diligence, and care, was made to obtain said articles.

Payment will be required every ten days, in Government funds.

The bids will state the amount, per animal, for the articles referred to, and be accompanied by a guarantee, certificate, affidavits of each guarantor, and oath of allegiance. Blank forms can be obtained by application to the undersigned.

The responsibility of the guarantors must be shown by the official certificate of a United States District Attorney or United States Judge. The certificate must be in the following form:

I hereby certify that from evidence entirely satisfactory to me, above-named guarantors are good and sufficient as sureties for double the amount for which they offer to be security.

No bids will be considered unless made out in conformity with the usual form, and are accompanied by a guarantee, certificate and affidavits.

All bidders must forward with their proposals an oath of allegiance, unless one may be on file with the officer who shall open the bids; and no proposals not fully complying with these requirements, will be considered or regarded as a proposal within the meaning of this advertisement.

The contractor will be held accountable for the hides, tallow, hoofs, horns, chucks, &c., from the morning of the 27th instant.

Bidders must be present at the opening of the bids, to respond to their names, and all bids must be endorsed, "Proposals for Purchasing Hides, Tallow, Hoofs, Horns, Chucks, &c.," and be directed to the undersigned.

G. BELL, Lieut.-Colonel and C. S.

AUCTION SALE OF HIDES AND TALLOW.

Also such other articles as may be on hand at the day of sale.

Terms—cash. G. BELL, Lieut.-Col. and C. S.

PROPOSALS FOR ARMY TRANSPORTATION.

OFFICE OF THE DEPOT QUARTERMASTER, FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, March 6, 1865.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 o'clock M. on SATURDAY, the 25th day of March, 1865, for the transportation of Military Supplies during the year 1865, on the following routes:

ROUTE No. 1.—From Forts Leavenworth, Laramie and Riley, and other depots that may be established during the above year on the west bank of the Missouri River, north of Fort Leavenworth, and south of latitude 42 degrees north, to any posts or stations that are or may be established in the Territories of Nebraska, Dakota, Idaho and Utah, south of latitude 44 degrees north, and east of longitude 114 degrees west, and in the Territory of Colorado north of 40 degrees north. Bidders to state the rate per 100 pounds per 100 miles at which they will transport said stores in each of the months from May to September, inclusive, of the year 1865.

ROUTE No. 2.—From Forts Leavenworth and Riley, in the State of Kansas, and the town of Kansas, in the State of Missouri, to any posts or stations that are or may be established in the State of Kansas, or in the Territory of Colorado, south of latitude 40 degrees, north, drawing supplies from Fort Leavenworth, and to Fort Union, N. M., or other depot that may be designated in that territory, to Fort Garland, and to any other point or points on the route. Bidders to state the rate per 100 pounds per 100 miles at which they will transport said stores in each of the months from May to September inclusive, in the year 1865.

No additional per centage will be paid for the transportation of bacon, hard bread, pine lumber, shingles, or any other stores.

Bidders should give their names in full, as well as their place of residence, and each proposal should be accompanied by a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, signed by two or more responsible persons, guaranteeing that in case a contract is awarded for the route mentioned in the proposal to the parties proposing, the contract will be accepted and entered into, and good and sufficient security furnished by said parties, in accordance with the terms of this advertisement.

The amount of bonds required will be as follows:

On route No. 1	$100,000
On route No. 2	200,000

Satisfactory evidence of the loyalty and solvency of each bidder and person offered as security will be required.

Proposals must be indorsed "Proposals for Army Transportation on Route No. 1," or "2," as the case may be, and none will be entertained unless they fully comply with all the requirements of this advertisement.

Persons to whom awards are made must be prepared to execute contracts at once, and to give the required bonds for the faithful performance of the same.

Contracts will be made subject to the approval of the Quartermaster-General, but the right is reserved to reject any or all bids that may be offered.

Contractors must be in readiness for service by the first day of May, 1865, and they will be required to have a place of agencies at or in the vicinity of Forts Leavenworth and Union, and other depots that may be established, at which they may be communicated with promptly and readily.

By order of the Quartermaster-General,

J. A. POTTER,
Colonel and Q. M. U. S. A.

PROPOSALS FOR LEATHER.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE, No. 1,139 GIRARD-ST., PHILADELPHIA DEPOT, March 9, 1865.

Sealed Proposals will be received at this office till THURSDAY, March 23, 1865, at 12 o'clock M., for delivering at the Schuylkill Arsenal:

WAX UPPER LEATHER, best quality, oak-tanned from slaughter hides, well finished and stuffed, to weigh not less than six and three-quarters (6¾) ounces to the square foot.

SOLE LEATHER, best quality, oak-tanned from Buenos Ayres or La Plata hides, to weigh not less than fourteen (14) pounds per side.

WELT LEATHER, best quality oak-tanned, slaughter leather, to average about sixteen (16) pounds, original weight. Each side to weigh not less than fourteen (14,) nor more than twenty (20) pounds, to be taken at the finished weight. Samples to be seen at this office.

All leather to be subject to measurement, weight, and inspection at the Arsenal.

Bidders are requested to submit samples of the leather they propose to furnish, which must be of suitable quality and substance for making army boots and bootees.

Each proposal must state when the deliveries will commence, the quantity to be delivered each week, the price (which should be written both in words and figures,) and conform to the terms of this advertisement, a copy of which should accompany each proposal.

Bids will be opened on THURSDAY, March 23, at 12 o'clock M., and bidders are requested to be present.

The right is reserved to reject any bid deemed unreasonable, and no bids from a defaulting contractor will be received.

Each bid must be guaranteed by two responsible persons, whose signatures must be appended to the guarantee, and certified to as being good and sufficient security for the amount involved, by some public functionary of the United States.

All proposals should be made out on the regular forms, which will be furnished on application at this office.

FRESH BEEF AND VEGETABLES.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, BUREAU OF PROVISIONS AND CLOTHING, March 8, 1865.

Sealed proposals, indorsed "Proposals for Fresh Beef and Vegetables," will be received at this bureau until 2 o'clock P. M. on the 21st day of March, instant, for the supply of 200,000 pounds of Fresh Beef and 200,000 pounds of Fresh Vegetables, at the New-York station, as required. The beef and vegetables must be of good quality, and the best the market affords, and each article must be offered for by the pound. The beef to be in equal proportions, fore and hind quarters. Bond, with approved security, will be required in one-half the estimated amount of the contract, and twenty per cent. in addition will be withheld from the amount of each payment to be made, as collateral security for the due performance of the contract, which will on no account be paid until it is fully complied with.

Every offer must be accompanied by a written guaranty, signed by one or more responsible persons, that the bidder or bidders will, if his or their bid be accepted, enter into an obligation within five days, with good and sufficient sureties, to furnish the articles proposed.

No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by such guaranty, and by satisfactory evidence that the bidder is a regular dealer in the article proposed, and has the license required by law.

The department reserves the right to reject any proposal not considered advantageous to the Government.

The "TIMES" says:
"Mr. Owens' Caleb Plummer is fully equal to his Solon Shingle, as a distinct and clearly-outlined character. The gentleness, quiet humor and inexhaustible affection of the old toy-maker have never been realized better. * * In fact, in truth, a warm, genial and powerful illustration of one of Dickens' greatest creations, and, as such, deserves to rank with the best modern individualizations known to the stage."

The "WORLD" says:
"Mr. Owens reveals in the touching part of the poor old toy maker qualities, which but few who have witnessed his efforts in eccentric comedy and burlesque would be likely to expect from him. * * * In the scenes with Bertha, Caleb's blind daughter, Mr. Owens brings the tears to every attentive eye. The childishness, the entire devotion, the grotesque light-hearted disposition of the old man, are faithfully and vividly displayed."

The "EXPRESS" says:
"It is difficult to recover from the sad influence of Mr. Owens' "Caleb Plummer," to speak of it in the proper spirit. We feel the pen gliding into mournful sentences at the memory of that representation. Owens' toy-maker seems sunken into the uttermost pit of misery—from the very beginning. He appears—and the woe painted on his face drags us down to his own level of unhappiness, by the pure force of sympathy."

The "EVENING POST" says:
"Mr. Owens' touching personation of the old toy-maker, Caleb Plummer, is among the very best of his performances. In the interview with his blind daughter, in the senile cheerfulness of the old man, in the feeble efforts at aged vocalization, and in all the by-play, Mr. Owens is thoroughly good. His "make-up" is something surprising, and equal in its way to that of Solon Shingle.

DEPARTMENT OF THE EAST.

lows, since which time he has been a changed man. He was at once put into Room No. 2, handcuffed and left alone. Every two hours the Officer of the Day (and Night) visits him, examines the handcuffs and looks through the room, so that there is no possibility of escape. In regard to he spoke unreservedly and fully. He had seen it stated that he had admitted to Maj. BOLLES, the able Judge Advocate of Gen. DIX's Department, that he had set fire to Barnum's Museum. This he requested us to deny, but upon more closely questioning him, he admitted that he had made the confession to PAICE, a confederate, who turned States evidence before the arrest in Canada. We remarked that this was rather sharp practice on his part, to which he laughingly asserted. He stated several times that he regarded Gen. WARREN and the court who tried him as high toned, honorable men and officers, and he could not recognize their verdict with their appearance. He thinks they, through Maj. BOLLES, were rather hard on him when they insisted upon excluding evidence which he regarded as material, and also said that he had come to the conclusion that as he had never known an acquittal by Court-Martial, they are organized solely for conviction. KENNEDY has no friends here, we believe, and its was only owing to an association formed at West Point with Gen. STOUGHTON that he secured the services of that gentleman during his recent trial. He had but little money when he was taken to the fort, but $5 indeed, in gold, sewed into the tail of his linen, which he has since had changed into currency, making about $12. With this it would be difficult for him to buy his way out even if his keeper were corruptible, so that he has given up all hope of saving himself by violence; and last week, after receiving formal notification through Gen. DIX, of the result of his trial, he wrote to President LINCOLN a brief factual note, in which he stated his case, asserting his entire innocence, and urging that as the death of Capt. BEALLE had furnished all the example necessary to raiders, the welfare of the country would not be improved by his blood, and trusting for clemency. We told him that although the President had the power and might have the inclination, he would not be apt to interfere in this case; but he replied that he understood Mr. LINCOLN was a good-hearted sort of a man, and at all events it could do no harm.

In regard to physical comforts, he is not, as we before intimated, abundantly provided. The regular rations for soldiers or prisoners are not at any time particularly tempting, and at such a time as this, when mind and body are alike excited, it would be strange if more tempting food would not be desirable. The officers furnish him with tobacco and a moderate allowance of Bourbon—items in the diet of a soldier as great and as necessary almost as bread and meat. He complains of a failing appetite and sleepless nights, while it was painfully evident that his deficiency in moral courage or pluck was rendering him unnaturally uneasy and nervous. He very naturally expresses great indignation at the treachery of the Confederate soldier PAICE, who, as he says, "to save his own neck, turned against his flag and his brother, and sent, by perjury and lying, a fellow-comrade to the scaffold."

It being evident from his conversation that he has given up hope of respite or reprieve, we endeavored, in the best faith possible, to turn his thoughts from the present and its futile hope of revenge to the certain fate before him, and the uncertainty which his mind must experience if it continued in its present state, but it was useless. The Chaplain of the post has been to see him, and spends occasionally a half hour with him, but the man, like many others, assents with his his head, while his thoughts and heart are untouched. This is clearly demonstrated by his constant profundity, but still more by letters which he writes and by remarks which he continually makes. For instance, in speaking of the late Capt. BEALE, he says: "Capt. BEALE states that he finds great consolation in the Christian faith. He rests confidingly upon the arm of the Saviour who died for him and for all sinners. Now I have a high regard and esteem for him, more, indeed, than for any other Confederate in Canada, but in this he seems to labor under a hallucination. I was reared under Christian influences, and so long as I was at home was compelled to say my prayers, but my mature judgment is that this is all nonsence. If there were any efficacy in it, the prayers of my pious old mother, would have kept me out of this trouble, and saved me from, perhaps, an ignominious death. * * * * * Again he says, in speaking of the 4th of March, substantially, "this is a great day for our enemies. They are making a great time over the capture of Charlesion, Wilmington and Savannah, and glorifying Old ABE. The dogs did not capture Charleston. Circumstances, not valor, gave it to them. Damn them let them Subjugate the South, and then triumph," and so on ad infinitem.

In regard to the approaching execution, he feels, as BEALE did, that there is no ignominy about it; he regards it as undeserved and unfair, but as he says he thinks he'll "be able to survive it." He says "he wouldn't care so much about it but for his little sisters, who may need his protection. His parents, from whom he has not heard since the fall of Vicksburgh, are old and all his brothers were in the army; the family is utterly broken up by the war. There is no doubt whatever in the minds of the court which tried him, or the people with whom he converses, that he is guilty of the incendiarism with which he is charged, although his conviction rests principally upon the proof that he was a spy. He will undoubtedly be hung on Friday next, at Governor's Island.

Passing from KENNEDY's room into the court yard, we saw the door of one of the batteries open, from which sprang out some thirty bounty-jumpers

BOUNTY-JUMPERS.

Each man had his little tin plate and cup, and walked straight for the kitchen, where he received his quantum of boiled beef and bread. Hard cases, hard faces and pretty hard times. Occasionally the inmates of the several rooms, one at a time, are let out for air, recreation and other little matters—but as a rule they are kept all the time close and safe in their prison. We went into the open battery. Some thirty iron bedsteads were ranged by the walls and the guns. The men were playing cards, boxing, reading, writing, talking, sleeping. The gathered about us as flies about molasses, and would very likely have licked us clean of wallet and handkerchief had they the chance. Almost every one wore a black felt hat, few had cravats, none collars. Keen eyed, hard-headed, small-fisted chaps who reveled during the riot week, plundering and murdering, while cities burned and hurrahed. They look sulky, but on the whole are disposed to make the best of a bad bargain. The officers of the fort have nothing to do with them, their entire care being left with the Sergeant of the Guard and his men; they are counted every two hours day and night, and are, by this time, convinced that jumping is a hard road to follow, when Col. BAKER is after them, and Col. BURKE's bastile yawns at the end of the route.

There are many other matters of interest, concerning which much might be written; but as no great good would be obtained, we forbear for the present. Col. BURKE may well be proud of the fort and its armament, the strength of which no one would believe had he not seen it, and the apple-pie order of which entitles the Colonel to his well merited reputation.

Stationed at the Fort are Lieut. JAS. A. HOPKINS, Fifteenth Infantry, commanding; Brevet Capt. THOS. H. FRENCH, First-Lieutantant Tenth U. S. Infantry, Post Adjutant; and Lieut. ROBERT P. WILSON, Seventeenth Infantry, Quartermaster. Capt. FRENCH the nephew of Col. BURKE, has been rapidly promoted for gallant and efficient conduct in the field and Lieuts. HOPKINS and WILSON have served faithfully and with credit.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

School Children Thrust into Basement Dungeons—Appropriations for 1865—Teachers' Salaries Advanced—New School Edifices, &c.

The Board of Education met on Tuesday evening, President MCLEAN in the chair, and nearly all the commissioners present. Mr. MILLER, of the committee whose duty it had been made to visit the school edifices in the Eleventh Ward, reported that of eight school buildings which they had visited, five were utterly unfit for school purposes, and three were barely tolerable. Of these, Grammar School No. 36, which was erected in 1847, was the most noteworthy as having a basement below the level of the sidewalk, under which tide water flows. In this ill-ventilated, ill-lighted room an average of seven hundred pupils are imprisoned daily, and on days of storm it is found necessary to take them to the attic to find light and air. The committee experienced great difficulty in reading the school-books in this dismal dungeon on the occasion of their visit. Grammar School building No. 15 was built in 1838, on a lot to which no play-ground was attached. The primary department is in a basement below the sidewalk level, and is dark and noisome. Here more than seven hundred children are imprisoned daily. Upon the committee's recommendation, the board authorized the Trustees of the Eleventh Ward to erect an additional story on this building, and recommended that the present primary department be converted into a play-ground. Primary School No. 31 is a rear building, of wood, combustible, dangerous and altogether unfit for a school-house. Primary No. 3 has only a narrow passage through which the pupils enter, and may escape in the event of fire, and the Board of Trustees asked power to construct a staircase on the street. The committee reported favorably, and the board authorized the work. Grammar School No. 22 is incomplete, in having no play-ground, and Primary No. 39 is unsuitable for a school.

The Finance Committee reported and the board adopted the following appropriations for 1865:

Salaries of teachers of Ward Schools	$300,000
Salaries of janitors of Ward Schools	10,600
Support of Free Academy	12,000
Support of Evening Schools	10,000
Supplies for the Depository	30,000
Salaries of officers of the Board of Education	6,000
Incidental expenses of the Board	6,000
Apportionment to corporate Schools	18,000
Incidental expenses of Ward Schools	20,000
Payments on special appropriations	40,000
Total	$350,000

On motion of Mr. HASTIE, of the Twentieth Ward, the Trustees of the Twentieth Ward were authorized to lease, at a rent of $1,500 annually, the building which is now occupied by colored School, No. 6, and for which they are paying $300 a year, and the trustees of the Sixth Ward were authorized to lease the third and fourth stories of No. 66 Elm-street, and annex thereto the Grammar School near No. 68 Elm-street. The Twenty-second Ward trustees petitioned for liberty to lease the premises now occupied by Primary No. 40, at an annual rent of $1,500; granted.

On motion of Mr. TURRELL, of the Fifth Ward, an appropriation of $13,000 was made for the purchase of a site at Nos. 270 and 272 Second-street, for Primary School No. 21, in the Eleventh Ward, and that a school building be erected thereon.

An application for an advance of twenty-five per centum on the present rates of salaries having been made by the male teachers employed by the department, the board voted the increase, to date from Jan. 1, 1865. The salary of Mr. JAMES D. KISSAM, assistant in the repository of the Free Academy, was increased to $500 a year, and the scale of janitors' salaries was ordered to be revised and henceforth based on floor surface.

In pursuance of a late act of the Legislature, the board voted to ask an increase of $450,000 on the appropriations for 1865, and to meet current obligations the President and clerk were directed to draw their warrant upon the Comptroller for $500,000.

The board voted that a room in their hall building be given the Normal School for the instruction of colored teachers.

A communication was received, inviting the commissioners and others interested in the advancement of pupils' education to be present at the awarding of diplomas of the highest grade to pupils of the Normal School, on Saturday morning next, at School No. 35, in Twelfth-street, near Broadway.

After desultory discussion, the board adjourned.
